DUDE SOLUTIONS FOR MANUFACTURING

SOFTWARE FOR SMARTER OPERATIONS
Own Your Operations

As a manufacturer, nothing is more important to you than keeping your equipment up and running smoothly. Unplanned downtime not only damages productivity and drives up production costs, it can also lead to greater “big picture” expenses over time with reduced asset lifespans.

Our goal at Dude Solutions is simple: to provide you with the insight you need to better manage equipment maintenance and keep your operations running at peak efficiency. With better control over your processes and access to critical reporting metrics, you can turn your operational efficiency into a major competitive advantage for your business.

We’re here to help you reach maximum productivity.

“We were quickly set up and running. I was absolutely blown away. All the equipment was put into the system [without manual entry]. We can easily add work centers, and the system is intuitively set up and so logical while many others aren’t.”

— Robert Martz, Engineered Controls

“Dude Solutions has become a part of our equation for success. Their software has helped us better maintain our equipment by clearly demonstrating when a change in maintenance frequency is necessary.”

— Dale Stein, Pepsi Bottling Ventures LLC
Dude Solutions has worked with hundreds of manufacturers for nearly two decades, developing partnerships with each of our clients and understanding exactly how to help them succeed.

Modern manufacturing demands solutions that are just as high-tech as the assets that are used on the production line, all while supporting their most valuable resource: people.
